THE CONCERT EXPERIENCE

Familiar melodies. A new way of listening.

Spiritual Standards brings together pianist Markus Burger and saxophonist Jan von Klewitz in music that is contemplative, lyrical and alive with improvisation. Chorales and hymns retain their identity as new harmonies, textures and spontaneous exchanges reveal fresh possibilities.

The repertoire connects Bach and the sacred tradition with the expressive freedom of jazz. It offers listeners a recognizable point of entry and the excitement of hearing familiar music unfold in the moment.

The duo has performed for the German Foreign Service and the Goethe-Institut in Europe and the Americas, Markus Burger served as Musical Ambassador of the Luther Decade in the United States from 2013 to 2016.

THE PERSONAL BEGINNING

Music as a source of strength

Markus Burger created Spiritual Standards while facing a life-threatening illness. The chorales and the spiritual nature of the source material gave him great strength.

That experience remains at the heart of the project: music as a place of reflection, resilience and connection. Its spiritual foundations are deeply personal, while its musical language invites a wide circle of listeners.

MARKUS BURGER

Piano · Composer · Project creator

A German-born pianist based in California, Burger brings European classical lyricism to contemporary jazz. A Bösendorfer Artist and professor at Fullerton College, he combines performance with guest lectures, clinics and cultural exchange.

JAN VON KLEWITZ

Saxophone

The Berlin-based saxophonist brings lyrical tone, expressive range and a keen sense of musical dialogue. His partnership with Burger is documented across five Spiritual Standards albums and extensive international touring.

BEYOND THE DUO

Voices, chamber ensembles & shared spiritual sources

Spiritual Standards is part of a broader artistic path. Burger also developed projects with the vocal Ensemble Alla Breve and the Athos Ensemble, bringing choral and ensemble perspectives to the encounter between musical heritage and improvisation.

Related collaborations with Ensemble Katharsis include saxophonist Simon Fluri, Dieter Oberdorfer and Hans Tutzer, among others. The album Vesprae also draws on spiritual source material. These projects extend the same artistic impulse into different combinations of voices and instruments.

01 Embassies & consulates

A musical bridge between cultures

A program that introduces German musical heritage through a contemporary, approachable language. Suitable for public cultural events, diplomatic concert series and partnerships with local churches, cultural institutes or universities. Concerts can be paired with guest lectures, clinics and host-country collaborations designed to build lasting cultural connections.

02 Churches & sacred spaces

Reflection, resonance and renewal

Chorales, hymns and Bach-inspired repertoire presented with respect for the source material and the character of the space. The dialogue of piano and saxophone supports attentive listening and a contemplative atmosphere, welcoming both established concert audiences and visitors discovering the repertoire.

03 Advent & Christmas

Tradition heard afresh

Seasonal programs draw on well-known German chorales, church songs and Christmas melodies. Recognizable themes meet the spontaneity of jazz, creating a festive concert with warmth, musical depth and space for reflection.

Program length, optional intermission, repertoire emphasis and local collaborations are agreed with the presenter. Piano, venue acoustics and technical needs are coordinated during booking.

Trusted by cultural hosts.

Selected excerpts from original recommendation letters. English translations from German.

MARSEILLE · GERMAN CONSULATE GENERAL

“Your arrangements of the most beautiful and best-known German chorales, church songs and Christmas songs connect Christian music and contemporary jazz. All guests were delighted by your performance and virtuosity.”

Jörg Grotjohann, Consul · 3 February 2026

BUCHAREST · GERMAN EMBASSY

“Planning, preparation and implementation of the project were harmonious and uncomplicated, not least because of your international experience and contacts, your exceptional communication skills and your personal approach.”

Dr. Peer Gebauer, Ambassador · 21 February 2025

SOFIA · GERMAN EMBASSY

“Before and during the visit, we experienced smooth, professional cooperation and an artist who adapted to local conditions with ease and flexibility.”

Irene Maria Plank, Ambassador · 20 January 2025

BISHKEK · GERMAN EMBASSY

“We thank you for the professional, friendly and uncomplicated cooperation, which we would recommend at any time.”

Constantin Zelenty, Deputy Head of Mission · 4 April 2025

The letters describe concert presentation, educational activity and the experience of working with the artists. Original recommendations are available on request.

Across borders. Beyond the concert.

Further recommendations from German diplomatic missions, including sacred-space performances.

REYKJAVÍK · GERMAN EMBASSY

“With your concert in Hallgrímskirkja, you impressively succeeded in taking your audience on a two-hour journey in this special place and, through your interpretation of hymns, bringing out the essence of spiritual music.”

Thomas H. Meister, Ambassador · 10 January 2014

ST. PETERSBURG · GERMAN CONSULATE GENERAL

“It was an extraordinary event in every respect. The hall was filled with enthusiastic listeners, and many weeks later guests were still speaking about the evening.”

Nikolai Stoikow · Letter of 9 February 2018

PARIS · GERMAN EMBASSY

“The concert succeeded impressively in bringing the audience closer to German church music through interpretation by church musician, classical scholar and jazz pianist Markus Burger.”

A distinctive musical voice.

Press commentary, an industry endorsement and the artist's own perspective.

CAM MILLER · SAN DIEGO UNION-TRIBUNE

“In jazz anything goes. Even Johann Sebastian Bach is fair game, according to the gospel of Markus Burger.”

CHRISTOPH SPENDEL · TASTENWELT

“Markus Burger has taken the meditative style of Ludovico Einaudi and transported it to a higher, more agile level. What makes this especially convincing are his honest, deeply personal compositions.”

BÖSENDORFER ARTIST MANAGEMENT

“Markus Burger is a pianist for whom expressive sound is the essence of his style, and we are pleased to count him among our exclusive circle of Bösendorfer artists.”

MARKUS BURGER · ARTIST STATEMENT

“I have always loved melodies that awaken inner images. I value silence as much as sound — the space between notes is where the music breathes. My motto has always been: less is more.”

Quotations reproduced from the supplied Markus Burger EPK. Christoph Spindel's review concerns The Vienna Sessions (tastenwelt 3/2022); it is presented here as commentary on Burger's wider artistry.

A visit with a lasting impact.

Performance, teaching and local collaboration can become one connected cultural program.

PROFESSOR · LECTURER · CLINICIAN

The artist as educator

Markus Burger can combine his performances with his work as a professor, guest lecturer and clinician. His experience at Fullerton College informs practical, accessible sessions for universities, conservatories, music schools and cultural institutions.

Workshops can explore Bach and jazz, improvisation for classical musicians, composition, music production and creative career development.

COLLABORATION IN THE HOST COUNTRY

Local encounters. Continuing connections.

Collaborations with musicians, choirs, ensembles and educators in the host country are actively sought. Joint rehearsals, workshops and shared performances can connect visiting artists with local musical traditions and creative communities.

The aim is a lasting effect beyond the concert: new artistic relationships, skills that participants can carry into their own work, and opportunities for future exchange. The format is developed with the host to reflect local interests, partners and resources.

CONCERT + MASTERCLASS: BUCHAREST

“With the concert and the accompanying training program, you not only provided musical enjoyment, but also created a lasting stimulus for the young music scene in Bucharest.”
